

A new genus of sporomorphs from the Zechstein deposits of Poland

Halina Kotańska Acta Palaeontologica Polonica 15 (1), 1970: 153-158

Pollen grains, unknown so far and which have been assigned by the present writer to Parmasporites unicus n. sp. and P. spectabilis n. sp. of the new genus Parmasporites, were found in the Zechstein deposits of cyclothem Z3 from borings in the Holy Cross Mountains and Lower Silesia.
